My very dear Brother Monitor Mason,

As these unprecedented times affect us all, good communication becomes an even more important part of our relationships and remains at the very core of Monitor Masonry.

The two-way act of communicating between Brethren and Visiting Deacons is essential to the success of our Order and not only helps to meet your own needs but also assists us to remain connected and maintain healthy relationships.

Communication is a crucial bridge between all people.

As Monitor Masons we all have a responsibility to make the phone call, and simply ask a Brother,- How's your day going? Listen and support each other. I encourage us all to give someone a call and chat in person.

Please remember to use the OSM website ( www.osm-nsw-act.org ) to see regular updates and Monitor News. Don't hesitate to contact the Webmaster, Rt. Wthy. Bro Trevor Harris, should you require assisted access.

Life is not easy for any of us at present, however I believe that we can gain strength and confidence with every experience in life, and that we will emerge from the current health crisis with renewed strength and confidence.

Stay safe, stay alert, and stay healthy.

Yours thoroughly and fraternally

Lynden
